EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Google's Chief Executive Officer Sundar Pichai's recent statement that the free and open internet is under attack around the world needs to be taken seriously. Pichai pointed out that many countries are restricting the flow of information. They are subjectively defining what "free speech" is and drawing rigid boundaries. Though he did not take names, the Google chief's obvious targets are China and India. The two together account for half the internet-connected world, and both have seen huge growth in recent years in internet-driven technology.

China has always been a censor of the free internet. But the significance of Pichai's warning is because India, a votary of freedom, is unfortunately going down the same road. As many as 20 OTT companies and news networks have challenged the new IT rules in different High Courts. As the old legacy media have been bottled up in layers of controls, the internet, which spawned the digital medium, became the voice of free communication. It has not only allowed uncensored news flow, but also facilitated the growth of e-commerce and entrepreneurship. It is therefore unfortunate that India, which has contributed one of the biggest pools of talent to the digital world, is now seeking to roll back Internet freedom. Pichai's warnings need careful consideration. — In The New Indian Express

'Miracle Berry' makes the sourest things taste sweet

Ghana: Synsepalum dulcificum, also known as the miracle fruit or miracle berry, is a unique plant known to produce fruits, that when eaten, make all sour foods and drinks subsequently ingested taste sweet.

For centuries, indigenous tribes of Ghana, in West Africa, used the fruits of the Synsepalum dulcificum plant to sweeten sour or tart fruits, foods, and drinks, but it wasn't until 1968 that the miraculin protein that makes the fruits special was finally extracted and turned into tablets. That made it possible for virtually anyone in the world to experience the "taste tripping" that miracle berries are so famous for. Miraculin essentially alters your senses, causing things that should taste sour, like lemon or vinegar, to taste sweet, or even too sweet for up to 60 minutes after the protein is consumed.

Entrepreneur uses volcano as pizza oven

Guatemala: An amateur chef in Guatemala has become famous for turning the country's Pacaya volcano into a pop-up pizzeria that serves fresh volcanically-baked pizza to tourists.

Mario David García Mansilla grew up in the shadow of Pacaya, one of Guatemala's most active volcanos and although he loved his home enough to know he never wanted to leave, he never imagined he would one day use the volcano as a pizza oven. Today, his now popular Pizza Pacaya has become one of highlights of visiting the active volcano, with tourists paying a premium to have Mansilla cook his delicious pies right on the smoldering volcanic rock, right next to flowing rivers of lava.

Mario, a trained accountant, realized he could cook literally on the volcano, which would not only allow him to follow his culinary passion, but also possibly make some money doing it.

Sagging power cable posing danger

Sir,

This is to draw the attention of CESC officials to a sagging power cable in front of Chinmaya Vidyalaya in Jayalakshmipuram.

A power cable has been drawn from the electric pole in front of the school to our home. Every time it rains or tree branches are chopped, the cable sags. This can be dangerous when loaded trucks or buses ply on this road.

Recently, an internet cable got snapped when a tanker went down the road. Since this is a school zone, I request the officials at CESC to kindly consider this matter as urgent and fix the cable to avert any major mishap.

ALLERGIES, CAUSES AND TREATMENT
Allergy is a global non-infectious disease. It develops when a person's immune response overreacts to substances called allergens. Around 25% of the Indian population has one or another allergy. Children and Young adults are commonly affected. Allergy can involve Lungs, Skin, Ear, Nose, Throat, Eyes with symptoms like running nose, cough, nasal block, ear block, itching, sore throat, rashes, breathlessness or wheezing. The most common allergies or triggering agents are dust, pollen, food, insect stings and certain medications. Some allergies are seasonal where the symptom can peak in certain seasons of the year, also called as Hay fever. Allergic Rhinitis must not be taken for granted. People suffering from allergies are unaware of available tests & treatments in the management of allergies. A skin test can identify the substance patient is allergic to. Once the causative allergens are found, avoidance is possible, it is the best cause of action. A variety of medications are available to treat different symptoms of Allergic Rhinitis. Immunotherapy /desensitization is recommended for allergies to grass, pollens, house dust mites. Immunotherapy can significantly reduce symptoms and the need for medications.

Mudslide near Kodagu DC Office causes concern

Pipeline breaks leading to loosening of soil; Engineer says no threat to the building

Madikeri/ Kushalnagar, July 17 (Akshay&BCT)-A minor landslide in front of the Kodagu District Administrative Office (DC Office) located on a steep gradient along the Madikeri-Mangaluru Road has caused concern. The portion of the land next to the retaining wall that is being built at a cost of Rs. 5 crore, caved-in on Thursday.

It is raining cats and dogs in Kodagu and heavy Punarvasu Rain has resulted in havoc, especially in Madikeri and Virajpet taluks. The mudslide in front of the DC Office has been caused due to seepage and soil turning loose due to incessant downpour.

The 40-ft retaining wall construction began in June this year and only a portion of it has been constructed. The contractor had to stop the work due to heavy rains. Last Wednesday, a storm water pipeline next to the retaining wall broke and a small stream of water was created.

Waking up, the DC Office staff summoned the contractor to clean the mess and the entire road was cleaned up from where the retaining wall began. For the record, the DC Office was built at a cost of Rs. 14.43 crore.

It was inaugurated in November 2014. Now the retaining wall itself costs Rs. 5 crore. The wall will be 140 meters in length and the height varies from 30 to 40 feet and the contractor has been asked to complete the works by December this year. The tender to construct the retaining wall has been bagged by Mysuru-based Ayyappa Constructions.

Pipeline breaks causing water leak

Speaking to Star of Mysore, officials said that a pipeline has been constructed from the DC Office till the road for the rain water to flow onto the road below, without seeping into the soil. Tarpaulin sheets have been covered on the remaining steep-gradient space that overlooks the Madikeri-Mangaluru Road.

The tarpaulin has been covered so that water does not seep into the soil, threatening the building, a few metres from the gradient. To prevent the tarpaulin sheets from flying away, they have been bound tightly with stones and ropes.

"One of the stones from the tarpaulin hit the storm water pipe (installed when the office was constructed), causing it to break. This caused water to flow like a small stream bringing the mud from the top. Also, the Forest Department has cut a tree in the DC Office complex and due to force, a branch fell on the stone which in turn fell on the pipe," the officials explained.

Safe for 50 years

Officials said that once the retaining wall is constructed, there will be no threat to the DC Office. "We will complete the retaining wall construction by December 2021. We will also streamline and divert the water flow so that the structure is not threatened. Before we began the retaining wall construction, we had created the storm water drain from the sides of the DC Office so that there is a clear path for the rainwater to flow. From the drain the water flows down through a pipe, which is broken now," they added.

As a precaution for future water flows, the pipe will be removed and a concrete tunnel (drainage) will be built in the place of the existing pipe for the water to flow down smoothly, Officials explained and said that this concrete drain will sustain the structure till the next 50 years.

While constructing the retaining wall too, care will be taken to make space for rain water to flow out. Outlets will be created so that there is a natural outflow without the soil getting loosened.

"Water will not be inside and as it will flow out, the sustenance of the retaining wall and also the DC Office will be longer," they said.

Sewage Treatment Plant at Koorgalli Lake

HC issues show-cause notice to Mysuru DC for Contempt of Court

Mysuru, July 17- The Karnataka High Court (HC) has issued a contempt notice to Mysuru Deputy Commissioner (DC) for failing to comply with an earlier Court order that directed the District Administration to take action against the official who granted permission for the establishment of a Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) at Koorgalli Lake in the outskirts of the city.

Mahadev and Devegowda, residents of Koorgalli, had filed in the HC questioning the permission given for setting up of the Plant at Koorgalli Lake.

A Division Bench of the HC headed by Chief Justice A.S. Oka, which heard the petition on Thursday, ordered issuance of a show-cause notice to Mysuru DC, asking why action should not be initiated for failing to comply with the Court order.

Mahadev and Devegowda, in their petition, had argued that the STP was coming up in an area coming under Koorgalli Survey No. 160, which indeed is part of Koorgalli Lake and sought directions from the Court for taking action against the official who granted permission for the setting up of the Plant there.

The Court had ordered submission of a report by Mysuru DC in this regard. But though the hearing of the case came up two times, the DC failed to submit the report and during the second hearing held on June 25, the Government advocate had argued that the then DC has been transferred.

The Court then directed the District Administration to submit the report in two weeks. But as the District Administration again failed to comply with the Court order, the HC issued a show-cause notice for Contempt of Court, it is learnt.

Old Laws and Congress Party

Two days ago, the Supreme Court heard a plea challenging the Constitutionality of the Sedition Law (IPC Section 124A). It was a proud moment for us as Mysureans because the challenge came from Major General S.G. Vombatkere (retd.), a resident of Mysuru.

While hearing the plea, Chief Justice of India, Justice N.V. Ramana, asked Attorney General K.K. Venugopal, "It is a colonial law and was used by British to suppress freedoms…is this law still needed after 75 years of Independence?"

Soon the campaign to scrap this repressive law began and Congress party leaders were vociferous.

Senior Congress leader Mani Shankar Aiyar, writing in the 'The Week' magazine about the misuse of Sedition Law by the BJP, said in a tone of shock, "The Narendra Modi cohort has invoked this charge 96 times in 2019 alone!"

Yes, it is indeed shocking. But you know what is truly shocking? In 2012, the Congress Government booked 9,000 sedition cases in one incident alone!

In 2012, there was agitation against the nuclear power plant at Koodankulam in Tamil Nadu and sedition charges were slapped against 9,000 protestors for "waging war against the Government of India."

In 2019, when sedition charges were filed against JNU students, Congress leader Chidambaram called for a debate on "Whether a provision like IPC Section 124A (sedition) has a place in the laws of a democratic republic." Makes us wonder, why he didn't do anything about it when he was the Home Minister and his Government was in power for a decade?

On the same issue Congress leader Kapil Sibal wanted the Sedition Law scrapped because, as he put it, "Those in power are manipulating it, and there is no need for a Sedition Law in today's times…" But what was he doing when he was the Law Minister and in that time his Government ruled for 10 long years?

Now, Mani Shankar Aiyar says, "It is high time Section 124A was repealed." Well, we must ask all the Congress leaders who are vociferous now, what were you people doing when you had all the time to do it…52 years of it?

The irony is this. Now archaic laws are being scrapped and progressive laws are being passed by a BJP Government that many liberals have labelled as "extremist", "regressive" and "patriarchal"!

The BJP Government took the Ordinance route in the matter of Triple Talaq and had Section 377, a law discriminatory towards homosexuals, scraped. Why couldn't the so-called "liberal" Congress scrap these laws in the 52 years they had?

Surprisingly, no praise came when the BJP Government repealed the Dramatic Performances Act, 1876, an Act that concerns the most vociferous opponents of BJP, the artsy-liberals.

This Act implemented by the British to stop artistes from using theatre as a tool of protest against colonial rule was till recently cited by Indian Police to stop street theatre shows!

Now that the law is gone, artistes are free to perform wherever they want after taking permission. Did any of the "award returnees" hail scrapping of this law? Sadly, they did not even question why the so-called "liberal" Congress did not scrap it in 52 years.

Later, Supreme Court scrapped Section 497 which treated women as "chattel" and criminalised consensual sex between adults. Why didn't the so-called "just" Congress do this in their time?

Of course, the Supreme Court did what the Parliament should have done. But the BJP Government played it smart. It didn't want to lose its "conservative" vote base so it conveniently left it to the wisdom of the Courts.

While a right wing BJP had to take this "Supreme Court" route to push progressive laws without affecting some of its fanatic vote base, why didn't Congress party that didn't have this problem — after all, it is in tune with their ideology — scrap these laws which were also Human Rights violations?

The answer is simple. Congress also practices "appeasement" politics. It didn't want to upset its conservative male voter base. Let it be.

Now, along with Sedition Law there are other illogical laws that have to be repealed. Such as Telegraph Wires (Unlawful Possession) Act, 1950. But the last telegram sent in India was on July 14, 2013 after which it was stopped. So this law is redundant !

Then we have the Indian Treasure Trove Act, 1878 which means if you find anything more than Rs. 10 lying on your land and if it is not yours, you better inform the Revenue Officer else you are going to jail!

The most interesting is the Salt Cess Act, 1953. This Act levies a tax on salt. And when you have an Act you need someone to manage it. So we have a branch of Civil Service called Indian Salt Services ! In 2016-17, it collected Rs. 3.53 crore in taxes but the Government spent Rs. 30 crore to run the Salt Department ! The Department has 11 Indian Salt Service Officers selected from the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) and nearly 700 support staff !

No wonder, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, during his 2014 election campaign, had said that he would repeal 10 archaic laws for every law his Government makes. And on 11th August 2014, two months after he was sworn-in, 'The Repealing and Amending Bill, 2014' was introduced in the Lok Sabha by the then Minister of Law and Justice, Ravi Shankar Prasad.

The Congress leaders must acknowledge the fact that in the last the 60 years, just 1,301 laws were declared obsolete while in the last 7 years more than 1,200 Acts have been repealed. Next another 1,824 such laws are being scrutinised, let us hope sedition is one among them.

Also, while the Chief Justice of India asks "Do we need this law?" The answer is, may be not in its current form. Instead, tweaking it would be better considering the mindless anti-India rhetoric and protests that could be initiated from hostile neighbours within India to create civil unrest.

For now, may be, by passing a less harsh Sedition Law the BJP might be able to garner consensus for birthing a new one — Uniform Civil Code — One People, One Nation, One Law.

Tokyo Games (July 23 to Aug. 8)

First COVID-19 case hits Olympic Village

Tokyo, July 17- Tokyo Olympics organisers revealed the first COVID-19 case in the Games Village on Saturday as they sought to reassure competitors that the pandemic-delayed event would be safe. Six days before the opening ceremony, organisers said an unnamed person had tested positive for Coronavirus in the Village, where thousands of athletes and officials will stay during the Games.

"There was one person in the Village. That was the very first case in the Village that was reported during the screening test," Masa Takaya, spokesman for the Tokyo organising committee, told a press conference.

"Right now this person is confined to a hotel," Takaya said.

Japanese media reported that the person who had tested positive was a foreign national. The Games are facing opposition from the Japanese public, who fear a fresh wave of infections.

Seiko Hashimoto, the Chief Organiser of the Tokyo 2020 Games, said organisers were ready to respond swiftly if there was a wider outbreak.

"We are doing everything to prevent any COVID outbreaks. If we end up with an outbreak we will make sure we have a plan in place to respond," she said.

Hashimoto conceded that competitors at the Games, which were postponed for a year because of the pandemic, would be anxious about the virus situation — and she vowed that organisers would not hide cases.

"Athletes who are coming to Japan are probably very worried. I understand that," she said. "That is the reason why we need to make full disclosure."

He pointed out that the exam will be held at 237 centres across the district, including 87 in the city with 138 reserved for regular and repeater students, 4 for private students and the rest 95 as additional centres for meeting any additional or emergency requirements. The exam will take place with all precautionary and safety measures considering the well-being of students, Dr. Panduranga said and added that the centres have been sanitised ahead of the exam. He further said that out of the 237 centres, 113 are Government schools, 42 aided schools and 82 unaided schools.

Stating that marking of registration numbers on benches at exam rooms will be completed by this evening, he said that KSRTC will be operating special buses to ferry students to their exam centres.

Referring to issuance of hall tickets, he said that almost all students have downloaded their hall tickets from the Department website. However, such students who could not download due to some reasons, can collect their hall tickets at their respective centres.

City Police issue prohibitory orders around exam centres

In order to ensure smooth and fair conduct of the exam and also to prevent any untoward incidents, the city Police, under directions from Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, have clamped prohibitory orders under Section 144 of Cr.PC in 200 mt. radius around all the exam centres. Accordingly, all photo copy shops in the vicinity have been ordered to shut down on both the days of the exam (July 19 and 22).

Every house in city to have water meter

Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj and District Minister S.T. Somashekar hold progress review meeting at MCC

Mysuru, July 17 (RKB&BCT)- Local bodies including the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) are well-known for their poor revenue mobilisation efforts. Tax loopholes, pilferages of water are aplenty often leading to a frequent rise in taxes, burdening the honest and allowing the dishonest to escape from paying any tax.

According to statistics provided by Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW), the water supplying arm of the MCC, over 20 percent of consumers have illegal connections and a major percentage of the meters are not working. A few houses and commercial establishments owe more than Rs. 120 crore water bills and only 70 percent pay water bills regularly.

The issue cropped up during a progress review meeting of the MCC held yesterday under the chairmanship of Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj and Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar where Basavaraj directed officials to install water meters to every house to prevent pilferage and also launch special drives to regularise illegal connections.

Each Corporator must lead the drive in their respective Wards in coordination with officers and Mayor, he said. Replying to the Minister, officers said that 60 percent of the houses have water meters and the process was on to install meters to 40 percent of the houses and tenders have been called for the same.

Connections of those who have not paid dues must be disconnected and a vigilance squad has to be set up to keep check on corrupt practices, the Minister directed.

LED street lights

Noting that the work on LED bulbs for street lights is a non-starter, Byrathi Basavaraj said that in the coming days, Mysuru would get 60,000 LED bulbs and the work order would be issued soon.

Heritage Committee

The present Government-constituted Heritage Committee has over 25 to 30 members and the Committee would be dissolved to constitute a fresh Committee. "A decision would be made regarding several heritage buildings in Mysuru as brought to my notice by the MLAs and there is a need to reconstitute the Heritage Committee which will be taken up in the coming days," he said.

UGD system for new Layouts

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda urged the Minister to come up with a comprehensive Underground Drainage (UGD) system for the new Layouts approved by Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) that had come up outside the Outer Ring Road.

He drew the Minister's attention to the pathetic condition of the UGD in the smaller Layouts. The MLA said that there were many Layouts extending to one, two and three acres of land and they do not have large septic tanks as their capacity is limited to 100 to 200 people. As such UGD water overflows at many places.

He urged the Minister to ensure that four treatment plants were set up in four different directions of the city so that the UGD water from the residential Layouts and the villages outside the Ring Road in Mysuru is treated.

Responding to the MLA's request, Basavaraj said that several Layouts formed by MUDA were in the process of being taken over by the MCC. These Layouts would be developed with a one-time settlement of Rs. 377 crore and would be handed over to the MCC. Accordingly, the MUDA has initiated works worth Rs.98 crore that included roads, UGD and parks, he said.

MLAs Tanveer Sait, L. Nagendra, Acting Mayor Anwar Baig, MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, Director of the Directorate of Municipal Administration at Bengaluru B.B. Cauvery, Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and others were present.

8,000 homes at Vijayanagar 4th Stage to get water from three Tanks

Mysuru, July 17 (RK,SSV &BCT)- Minister in-Charge of Mysuru District S.T. Somashekar and Minister for Urban Development Byrathi Basavaraj yesterday inaugurated the project of distributing drinking water by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) at Vijayanagar 4th Stage.

They inaugurated an overhead tank that has a capacity of storing 10 lakh litres built by MUDA and also two new ground level reservoirs with a capacity of 6.5 lakh litres capacity at a cost of over Rs. 3.29 crore. These projects would supply water to over 8,000 residents of Vijayanagar Fourth Stage.

During the inauguration, MLA G.T. Devegowda drew the attention of the Ministers about the fact that though Vijayanagar is known to be one of the largest residential Layouts, it lacked basic amenities.

Somashekar told reporters that MUDA has developed several Layouts and many of them were yet to get all necessary basic amenities. The problems they were facing are being addressed and facilities are being provided.

Minister Basavaraj said that a decision would be taken for spending Rs. 98 crore for developing basic amenities in the new MUDA Layouts.

MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and others were present.

No convoy, Ministers prefer Volvos

Urban Development Minister Byrathi Basavaraj along with District Minister S.T. Somashekar, elected representatives, Chairmen of various Boards and Corporations, officers and media personnel went in two KSRTC Volvo buses for the inspection and inauguration of various water schemes.

Instead of going in the official cars with huge convoys, the two Ministers decided to go in two buses. Even officials also travelled along with the Ministers in the buses to various locations. The Ministers spent around 30 minutes at each place.

A pat for DC

Minister Somashekar has patted Deputy Commissioner Dr. Bagadi Gautham for working efficiently and said that the officer was bringing a good name to the Government.

"Hitherto, people were coming to me with a list of problems as the District Administration had failed to address them. But the incumbent DC Dr. Gautham does not keep any file on his table for more than ten minutes. So, people have stopped coming to me with memorandums," Somashekar said.

Kodagu District Minister offers Bagina at Harangi Dam

Madikeri, July 17- With the Harangi Dam in Kodagu district full to the brim, thanks to copious rainfall in the past few days, Kodagu District Minister V. Somanna yesterday offered bagina at the Dam, in keeping with the tradition.

During the offering of the Bagina, Somanna performed puja to four crest gates of the Dam and also pressed the crest gate button to release 8,000 cusecs of water from the Dam.

Later speaking to press persons, Somanna said that Harangi Dam was the first major Dam in the State to have filled up this monsoon. Noting that the Dam feeds water to 1.65 lakh hectares of Kodagu, K.R. Nagar taluk in Mysuru and five taluks of Hassan district, he said that water will be released for standing Kharif crops and through all canals of the Dam.

Maintaining that the B.S. Yediyurappa Government is doing what all it can for expanding the irrigation network in the State, Somanna contended that there was no drought in the State for two years. However, rain has played havoc in some parts of the State, he said and added that scattered rains across the State has helped farming.

Clarifying that the Government has released money for de-silting of Harangi Dam, he said that tenders have been invited for the purpose. Noting that there were no successful bidders two times, he said that the Government was ready to hand over the works if a competent contractor comes forward for the third time.

Asserting that Kodagu DC has informed him that the district has so far suffered an estimated loss of Rs. 95 lakh due to heavy rains, Somanna said that measures will be taken for providing relief to the family of a person who was recently washed away in floods.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, in his address, said that though he was an elected MP for seven years, he could not offer bagina to Harangi Dam for one reason or the other. But he was happy now that he got a chance. Arguing that the State has been receiving good rainfall after B.S. Yediyurappa came to power, he said that nature too seems to be impressed by the works of the Chief Minister.

Referring to the damages caused to Madikeri-Mangaluru National Highway, Simha said that it has come to his notice and he will do all he can to repair the damaged sections of the road. Also, it has been planned to construct earth retaining wall at landslides prone 22 points of the Highway, for which he would render all help, he added.

Harangi Dam officials said that the Dam has a water storage capacity of 8.5 TMC and the maximum water level of the dam is 2859 ft. At present, the water level is retained at 2858 ft. as a precautionary measure and whatever additional water that the Dam gets (inflow) will be discharged through canals.

Earlier, the Minister and a host of other dignitaries offered puja to the idol of Goddess Cauvery at the lower level of the Dam.

MLAs Appachu Ranjan, A.T. Ramasway and H.P. Manjunath, DC Charulatha Somal, MLC Sunil Subramani, BJP District President Robin Devaiah and a host of other officials and people representatives were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Shivoo

Pronunciation: shi-voo.
Meaning: A boisterous party or celebration.
Origin: Shivoo "a loud party" is an Australian colloquialism of uncertain origin. An earlier spelling, shiveau, appears at the end of the 18th century in the UK. The nearly 20 spelling variants, including chevaux and cheveaux, lead some scholars to suggest that the origin of shivoo may be from the French phrase chez vous "at your house." The Australian spelling shivoo dates from 1881.
Example: In that traditional lull between reporting season and the start of annual meetings, the balance of Australia's most senior chief executives are clocking up air miles and enjoying the hospitality of investment bank JP Morgan at its annual Edinburgh shivoo. —"It's Ceo Party Time," Sydney Morning Herald, October 10, 2003.

THE ODD WORD

Sagittal

Shaped like an arrow.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A slap on the wrist

Meaning: The phrase 'A Slap on the Wrist' means to get a light punishment (for doing something wrong).
Origin: If you've done wrong and are caught, you probably feel fortunate to get away with just a slap on the wrist. The origin of the idiom 'a slap on the wrist' is probably 18th century England, as it was in this place and time that the word 'slap' began to be used not just literally, but figuratively. As punishments were often quite severe in those days, a slap on the wrist would have been considered to be extremely minor.
Example: "He should be in jail for what he did, but he got off with just a slap on the wrist."

Parishat Mysuru District President

Dr. Siddappa

Mysuru, July 17- Retired Additional Commissioner of Commercial Taxes Dr. Helavarahundi Siddappa has been appointed as the President of Mysuru District Unit of Akhila Bharatha Sharana Sahitya Parishat.

A resident of Siddarthanagar in city and a native of Helavarahundi in T. Narasipur taluk, Dr. Siddappa had his education at T. Narasipur, Maharaja's College and Manasagangothri in Mysuru city. Beginning his career as a lecturer, Dr. Siddappa later passed competitive exams and was appointed as Assistant Registrar of Co-operative Societies.

He later served as the Tahsildar at Hassan, Koppal and Chamarajanagar and thereafter as Assistant Commissioner of Commercial Taxes. He retired as Additional Commissioner of Commercial Taxes in 2017.

Considering the knowledge that he has on various subjects and Sharana Sahitya, Dr. Siddappa's name for Mysuru District President of the Parishat was recommended by Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, who is also the Hon. President of Akhila Bharatha Sharana Sahitya Parishat.

Era of Cosmetic Surgery has arrived in Mysuru

By Dr. H.V. Satish
Senior Plastic and Cosmetic Surgeon, Apollo BGS Hospitals, Mysuru

Do you know that the demand for cosmetic surgery has gone up by 200 percent in the last two years? It is not surprising. Of late, most people who came for cosmetic procedures are from middle-class families. They all wanted to change something they were very unhappy with and they were willing to even undergo an operation because they felt the benefits were worth it.

The importance of appearance is directly proportional to the visibility of the job or life profile. As people want to move up an organisational ladder/ society/ relationship, they feel that appearance too can play a significant role. A pleasant face or a pleasing body shape can make the critical first impression needed for success.

There is no age-specific group for plastic surgery. A 4-month-old girl child with a deformed ear lobule was brought by her mother who wanted it corrected so that the ritual ear-piercing could be done. A 78-year-old man came with a bulging tummy and said he always wanted to tuck his shirt inside. Changes brought about by growth (crooked nose), pregnancy (flabby tummy and drooping breast), lifestyle (belly and hip fat) opportunities (oval face for a model) also make people seek help.

The most common procedures are related to change in the shape of the nose, stomach and breast. While some wanted fat removal or mole removal others underwent Laser skin tightening, change in the shape of the lips and so on. The latest trend was an increase in people asking for making the face into an oval shape by reducing the double chin and making the jaw more prominent. This can be done without surgical operation also.

In cosmetic surgery, a few things are critical. Deciding on the treatment requires experience. Performing the procedure requires skill. Safety is paramount and a well-equipped hospital is necessary. One of the most important things in cosmetic surgery is pre-surgical consultation. The cosmetic surgeon and the patient should discuss in detail and understand the full treatment plan.

Cosmetic surgery is more common than many people think. This is because people who take this treatment do not discuss it. Most people feel shy to consult because others may think they are obsessed with appearances. Some others resist meeting a plastic surgeon because of a fear that some artificial material (plastic) may be inserted or as it may be too expensive. A consultation is only the beginning and all problems don't require surgery.

Safety and outcomes are the two biggest concerns of anyone seeking cosmetic surgery. It is better to have a detailed discussion, more than once to help both — doctor and client — understand the issue. The outcome depends on the surgeon's experience/ skill and safety depends on the hospital facility.

People concerned about the shape of any part of their body, may consult a Plastic Surgeon. Only those with an M Ch degree in Plastic Surgery are best trained to offer cosmetic surgery.
